CORNWALL CHURCH MARRIAGE RETREAT

DESIGNED FOR CONNECTION

Exclusively for Cornwall couples of all ages!

JANUARY 18-20, 2019
Cedar Springs Retreat Center

RETREAT SUMMARY

When Pam and I were first married, some of the best marriage advice we ever received was to “have a weekly date night” and “attend an annual marriage conference or retreat.” We know that one of the greatest dangers to marital health is marital drift and neglect. This warning and encouragement has served us well over 39 years of marriage; it has encouraged us to stay connected regularly with each other, especially during some very busy and very difficult stages in our marriage and family life. Participating in annual extended times away has allowed us to refocus, learn, and grow together during a time of little distraction in a relaxed, retreat setting. For the last 19 years, we have committed to provide a marriage retreat that will be informative, thought provoking, and discussion prompting. This year is no exception!

For this year’s retreat, Dr. Steve Call and his wife Lisa will present “Designed for Connection.” We begin the marriage journey with a desire for fulfilling connection, and yet we often find ourselves disconnected and disillusioned despite our best intentions.

Their approach is to offer candid insight into deep places of heartache as well as practical steps toward discovering and navigating God’s unique design for connection in marriage.

Couples are invited to courageously explore how their own individual story impacts their style of relating to one another. Couples will be invited to experience reconnection by accessing deeper levels of intimacy and awareness as we explore the areas of attachment, shame, conflict and play through story. Our passion is for each marriage to experience profound hope and delight in the connection that was originally designed for marriage.

Our greatest prayer is that this retreat refreshes you and your spouse, and that you go home revitalized with new skills and a deeper relationship with God and each other.

Together, Pastor Randy
