DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

- When have you experienced endorphins (a helpers-high)?
- What's the difference between being "happy" and having "Biblical joy"?
- How are you creating community in your day-to-day life?
- Who is your "community"?
- How does being a Christian help us live with a Biblical worldview when our culture touts individualism (it's all about your happiness, your needs, you-you-you)?
- What's the difference between having a critical mind vs having a critical spirit?
- "82% are world citizens influenced by our culture rather than a Biblical worldview" - George Barna Where is this MOST evident in your day-to-day life?
- Have you ever become too individualistic searching for the "me" vs searching for who God says you are?
- How can we push back against a culture of individualism to become the church God calls us to be?
- How can we personally start shedding our individualism and go against our culture?
- How does serving others and living for others give you significance and meaning?
- When have you experienced the healing power of community, purpose and serving others to mend hurt in your life?

NEXT STEPS

Follow up this week and further explore your spiritual gifts, skills, and passion. Ask someone who knows you well what they think your gifts are and what you might be good at being a part of the Body.
